ENTHUSIASM: PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Our Chapter's 2007-2008 IAAP® term is coming to a close! It has been a successful year for us, both in membership gained, educational topics, and the enthusiasm has been the best! I wish to thank all of you for your support in making my theme, "Log On To The Winning Edge, Education + Enthusiasm" a reality.

My sincere thanks to the members of my board: Joyce Teter RP for the programs we had and places to meet; Vicky Judish for her quick response in furnishing minutes of the meetings, being Ways & Means chairman as well as Webmaster, and many things your President needed done in Boulder; and Robin Trader CPS/CAP for keeping our financial status updated and assisting with the Membership progress. We tried something new this year—all Board meetings by email! It worked very well. We all worked on the new places we met for our meetings and a special "Thank You" to Jean Crane of La Hacienda Restaurant for coming to our aid for the place to meet for our Impact Meeting and subsequent meetings, giving us excellent meals in a private place to meet.

A special thank you to my committee chairmen, Joyce Teter, APW chairman from Boulder Chapter; Billie Willey CPS, Bylaws & Standing Rules; Patti Lovato, CPS/CAP Certification; Linda Smith CAP, Membership Directory; and Publicity, Tommie Diaz CPS.

Thank you to Nancy Upchurch CPS/CAP for being a speaker for the Retirement Trust Foundation recognition in October and to Billie Willey CPS, Past International President (1998-99), for being the speaker at our Impact Meeting in February. We are fortunate to have talented speakers in our organization who are willing to share their expertise and experience.

A special "thank you" to Nancy Upchurch CPS/CAP for being my chauffeur to the Boulder Chapter meetings and being there for me in many ways to make my job easier. One of the great advantages of IAAP membership is meeting and becoming friends with outstanding admins such as Nancy who is willing to share her expertise and time for the benefit of the organization.

We have elected a very capable board for 2008-2009 and are happy to welcome the new members as well as the transferred members from other chapters. It is my hope that you all will join me in assisting them to make the coming term a successful one!

As we have learned, this takes cooperation of the Board, Committee chairmen, and the members at all times. We did it with enthusiasm and as Norman Vincent Peale wrote,

"If you are not getting as much from life as you want to, then examine the state of your enthusiasm."

Vi McNew CPS/PRP
2007-2008 Boulder Chapter President

EDUCATION: THE SCREAMS OF SILENCE- DR. CAL LEMON

Silence is supposed to be “golden.”

Yeah, right!

In many work environments, we have learned the required survival skills of the new economy are zip your lip, keep your head down, become invisible in staff meetings and watch what you say at coffee break. Why should any of us be surprised saying nothing is the language of choice in most workplaces?

Last year, did you make a suggestion to your boss and...have yet to hear anything?

Have you been double billed by a vendor and, after sending in a copy of the check, asked that someone give you a call to explain how this could have happened only to hear...nothing?

Have you asked that someone you trust give you a critique about a presentation you made? That was six months ago!

So, why the chicken-biological-waste response of silence?

There are four reasons why saying nothing is actually screaming.

First, putting into words what you are thinking and feeling could be injurious to your career health.

I will openly admit there are times when “power people” do not want to hear from us. They give very clear, non-verbal messages that can be summarized, “If you say anything right now, you have chosen to seek employment elsewhere.”

People with positional power do have the right to filter what they want to hear and from whom. That is neither good nor bad; it is just the way it is.

Second, some of us do not think well on our feet, on our posterior, in a prone position...or any other physical contortion.

When we are confronted with a “flight or fright” situation, we will say, “My mind just went blank.” Well, there is a good physiological reason: the blood does drain from our extremities, including our cranium, and goes to the heart and lungs. So, when crisis comes calling, we often do not have the mental fuel for laser-like reasoning.

Third, we do not know the skills of how to put our thoughts and emotions into words. We have been taught how to weld, enter numbers into Excel, plant a juniper, program a TV remote control, do the backstroke, fill out a 1040...but not talk.

Our throat-clearing, halting stammering with each other is an indictment on our educational system. It does me no good to earn a degree or accurately read a spreadsheet unless I am able to verbally arrange my thoughts about what the numbers mean to me or our organization.

Fourth, we use silence because we fear rejection.

If my idea, plan, solution or approach is not accepted then, I assume, I am not accepted either.

The marriage of our jobs and our self-esteem is rampant. Many of us do not know who we are without the aid of a job description. We have trouble when meeting another person if a place of employment is not part of that first conversation.

Consider this: If the job is you and a colleague does not agree with you, you probably will become irrationally defensive.

The President requested all to stand for the Pledge of Allegiance.

Nancy Upchurch CPS/CAP read the Inspiration.

President McNew welcomed all members and guests and asked each to introduce themselves.

MEMBERS PRESENT: Vicky Judish, Patti Lovato, Joyce Teter RP, Vi McNew CPS, Billie Willey CPS, Past International President, Mona Boyd CAP, Reina Chavez, and Kathy Kramer.

GUESTS PRESENT: Nancy Upchurch CPS/CAP, Union Colony Chapter member and past Retirement Trust Foundation Chairman, Sharon Hunvald CPS, Denver Chapter member and past CWM Division President, and Phyllis Cain CPS, Past CWM Division President.

The Minutes of the March 2008 meeting were presented and approved as published with one correction noted (remove Fund after Retirement Trust Foundation). The President pointed out there are no minutes for April due to the Chapter meeting not being held; members were encouraged to attend the APW event held April 25th instead.

The Financial Reports for March and April, 2008 were distributed by Treasurer Robin Trader. There being no questions, they will be filed. Two bills were presented for approval by Board member, Vicky Judish: $69.28 for badges and $21.91 for roses. The bills were approved to be paid.

PRESIDENT: President McNew reported as follows:

1. Acknowledged all correspondence and forwarded e-mails from the Division President and NW District Director promptly.
2. Participated in the Northwest District conference call March 25. The NW District Director requested all attendees at the New Orleans Convention to wear an item in purple as that is the color the Director has chosen to designate her District at the Conference meetings.

SECRETARY (continued): Vicky also presented badges to Mona Boyd CAP and Patti Lovato. Badges for members who were unable to attend include Loretta Tryke, Irene Randall, CPS/CAP, Linda Singer, Thor Romero, and Stacia Keller CPS. They will receive the badges at the June meeting.

TREASURER: Treasurer Trader announced she had received membership renewal cards for the following members: Vi McNew, Joyce Teter, Billie Willey, Office Team, Marlyce Harris, and Jenny Cayton and presented cards to those in attendance with the other cards to be mailed to the members not in attendance.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

APW: Chairman Teter reported on the APW Workshop held April 25th at the Park Hill Golf Club. There were 57 attendees and 14 vendors at the Mini Expo. Speaker Gini Courter presented information on collaborating in Microsoft Office 2003 with an overview of Microsoft Office 2007 and a comedian was the entertainment after lunch. Each of the four chapters is estimated to receive $850-$900 after expenses. A special thank you goes to Chairmen Nancy Upchurch, Debbie Brown, and Sharon Hunvald as members of the APW Committee.

Bylaws & Standing Rules: Chairman Willey reported on the amendments to be presented at the CWM Division meeting and at the International meeting. Most of the proposed amendments for the Division Bylaws & Standing Rules are "housekeeping" changes.

The meeting was recessed for dinner. With no objection, no reports were presented for the remainder of the Standing Committees due to the lack of time. The Ways & Means Chairman Judith sold raffle tickets during the recess for the raffle gift.

SPECIAL ORDERS: Billie Willey, Chairman, asked members to correct their copies of the Bylaws to show the Associate Member fees to be $155. Billie read the proposed Boulder Chapter Bylaw amendment as follows: "Article V. Officers, Qualifications, Nomination and Election, Term, Duties. Section 2 Qualifications A. A candidate for office shall be a Professional or Professional Merited Member prior to the time of nomination. A candidate for the office of Treasurer shall be knowledgeable in acceptable accounting procedures." The Chair stated that this amendment does not require a second since it was proposed by the Board and Bylaws & Standing Rules Chairman. The Board and Chairman move its adoption. Upon request, there was no discussion. The vote was unanimous in favor of adopting the amendment.

Mona Boyd presented the Nominating Committee report. The following candidates were nominated by the committee; bios were distributed to members prior to the report:

- Mary Carpenter nominated for Treasurer
- Susan Conti nominated for Secretary
- Reina Chavez nominated for Vice President
- Mona Boyd nominated for President

President McNew inquired if there were further nominations for each office. None were presented and she declared Mona Boyd elected President; Reina Chavez elected Vice President; Susan Conti elected Secretary; and Mary Carpenter elected Treasurer. Roses were presented to Reina and Mona and installation of the new Board for 2008/2009 will be held at the June 19 meeting at LaHacienda Restaurant.

MOMENTS IN TIME

In July 1960, thirty certified secretaries attended the CPS Institute, which was held in Boulder. Again the University of Colorado School of Business assisted with this activity. "Living and Working in the Space Age," a three-day seminar for CPSs only included registration, two lunches and a steak fry for $25.00.

In March, 1962, the Boulder Chapter took on a heady subject, "Automation." NSA was planning ahead. The media covered the story and seminar in the Rocky Mountain News, Denver Post, and Boulder Camera.

"How to Keep the Secretary's Role Vital," (1964) dealt with Ethics, Mental Health, Physical Health, and Self-Development and Education. COST $1.00

"The You In Secretary" - a CU/NSA Institute

May 1970 - CU/NSA Institute, "You've Come A Long Way Baby," (The US Post Office furnished lists to all attendees of the new two digit letters for all states.)

HOW GREAT DECISIONS ARE MADE

Here are ten steps for reaching group agreement on tough issues, excerpted from the book How Great Decisions Get Made, by Don Maruska (an excellent book for business and/or association leaders).

- Enlist everyone. Ask who knows a lot about this issue and ought to be involved in the decision making. You may need to add people to the group for this issue.
- Discover shared hopes. Before you throw out solutions, have everyone tell what they expect to get out of the solution and why it is important to them,
- Uncover the real issues. Oftentimes, we assume we know the concerns. We could be wrong. Ask everybody to express their thoughts and worries. Before a person speaks, have them paraphrase what the previous speaker said. It helps avoid confusion.
- * Identify all options. Don't start agreeing or disagreeing on any option until they are all out on the table.
- Gather the right information. Look at all the options from the perspective of what the group wants to accomplish – before you gather info on each option.
- Get everything on the table. Ask everyone to state something positive and negative about each option. It may lead to new ideas.
- Write down choices that support shared hopes. Take straw ballots from the members to see which options address the hopes of everybody. This could help you fill in the gaps before you vote.
- Map solutions. Tabulate the results on a flip chart and look at ways to improve the most attractive alternative so they meet more expectations.
- Look ahead. Make a back-up plan for the solution you choose. Monitor results of the chosen option carefully to see if it measures up to expectations.
- Stay charged up. Bring everyone together and talk about how the chosen solution addresses everyone's needs as stated. Celebrate what you've achieved and your ability to work together.

LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL!

If I am on to something here about reasons why we go “mum” with each other, the only one we can immediately correct is the third one: we need to learn the skills of adult confrontation.

Therefore, I am suggesting these three, simple skills.

First, when you need time to formulate a verbal response, say, “I will need a few minutes (hours, days) to think through how I want to respond to you.” Make sure you say that without any hint of an apology.

Second, when you do not agree, respond with, “I see things much differently and here are the reasons....”

Third, accept responsibility for your own errors. Instead of silently staring with CYA why not say, “You know what, you are right here and I am wrong.”

Silence is an intentional, passive-aggressive game played by adults who have decided to scream...without saying a word.

FOCUS ON OUTCOMES – NOT ACTIVITIES

How many times have we heard IAAP members talk about all the things they have been doing and expect that we will be impressed? Or how many annual reports have we read and seen list and list of all the tasks committee members have done throughout the year? They expect that we will admire them and congratulate them on their contributions to the association. But in reality, these folks are missing the point!

The point isn't how busy you've been...it's how much you've accomplished. The activities you've been involved with mean nothing. It's what happens as a result. If nothing transpired, or if your goals weren't met, then the time and energy spent on the details were meaningless.

That's why Stephen Covey says, "Start with the end in mind." And that's what the Cheshire Cat meant in Alice In Wonderland when he said, "If you don't know where you are going, then any road will get you there."

All our actions should be conducted with a purpose. We ought to be working toward a goal that is specific and measurable, one that we definitely know whether we've made it or not.

So, as you continue working in your leadership position within IAAP this year, take these steps to ensure success and feel a sense of accomplishment.

- Have a clear vision of where you want to end up.
- Articulate this vision to others.
- Get them to help you meet these goals.
- Set steps that will get you to the final goals.
- Evaluate your progress throughout and change course if necessary.
- Identify milestones and attach a date.
- Give your team and supporters appropriate recognition.
- Celebrate along the way.
- Focus on the outcomes, not the activities.

BOULDER CHAPTER 2007-2008 PROGRAMS

FRIENDS ARE LIKE ANGELS

Who brighten our days.
In all kinds of wonderful,
Magical ways.

Their thoughtfulness comes,
As a gift from above.
And we feel we're surrounded,
By warm, caring love.

Like upside-down rainbows,
Their smiles bring the sun.
And they fill ho-hum moments,
With laughter and fun.

Friends are like angels,
Without any wings.
Blessing our lives,
With the most precious things.

FOCUS ON OUTCOMES – NOT ACTIVITIES (CONTINUED)

- Use the achieved outcomes as a new stepping stone to take the group even higher.
- Judge your success not by what you put into the endeavor, but what came out of it!
Know what you want to accomplish and don't stop until you've achieved it. Highlight the end product; don't create travelogues about the way stations you've stopped at along the way. The best leaders are not the ones who work the hardest... but the ones that work the smartest, and produce the greatest results.

CHAPTER LEADERS MORALE BOOSTING CHECKLIST

Here's a self-diagnosis tool on boosting morale in your chapter (answer "yes" or "no" to each question):

- Are you informing members of how their efforts support IAAP goals?
- Are you aware of each member's career goals and do you consider them when delegating assignments?
- Have you ever questioned your members about morale?
- Do you concentrate on being enthusiastic, serving as a good role model?
- Do you seek free exchange of communication with your members?
- Have you empowered your members by involving them in decision-making?

Results: If you answered "yes" five or more times, you are a morale booster. If you answered "yes" fewer than five times, perhaps you need to reexamine how you're treating your members.
