Options were discussed about making the cost of private pilot training less painful, vis-à-vis the scholarship program.

Jack mentioned the importance of reviving our "WINGS" program, and also the importance of mentoring these young fledglings. Marc mentioned that John Savage was investigating some options.

Jonathon Rimington reiterated the importance of helping during the MPA's May 2009 convention at the new Branson Airport; see its website, FlyBranson.com. MPA members will be given VIP seating for the air show that is scheduled for the grand opening.

Under New Business: Pat Baker mentioned she got an email from Eric and Geri Moore, who miss us and still have fond memories of the gang.
