

National Night Out – Tuesday, August 5, 2008

Jeff Volk recording the weight of the children on their KidCare booklet.

Kevin Kragnes measures the height of the children to enter into their booklet.

Brock Storrusten taking a picture of the children to place in their KidCare booklet.

Kevin Skoog explains to the children and their family how to complete the booklet.

The West Fargo Exchange Club and the West Fargo Police Department participate in the National Night Out program on the 1st Tuesday of August. KidCare kits are provided to families to provide identification packets for their children in case there is a missing child situation. Each booklet includes the vital information for each child including height, weight, a picture, finger prints, and other identification information that could be used by the police to assist in locating a missing child. Exchange members who participated in the 2008 event were Kevin Kragnes, Ron Fuglie, Kevin Skoog, Jake Lauritsen, Larry Lubben, Dorinda Anderson, Jeff Volk, Brock Storrusten, Kirk Beckius, Bernie Dardis, Brad Schmidt and Jim Muller.

Jake Lauritsen taking pictures and Ron Fuglie explaining the KidCare booklet to the families on how to complete the fingerprinting and other information in the booklet.

