

Role of DOVIA Greater Akron

For many years, Directors of Volunteers in Agencies (DOVIA) Greater Akron, has been an excellent resource and professional association for volunteer administrators in Summit and surrounding counties.

The mission of DOVIA Greater Akron is to:

- advance the profession of volunteer administration
- to encourage education and training in the professional field
- to identify and disseminate information on certification in volunteer administration
- to act as advocates for volunteers and volunteerism on a local, state, and national legislative level
- to explore ideas and solutions for common concerns, and
- to promote public recognition of volunteers and volunteerism.

In order to continue this mission, we rely on the support and participation of volunteer administration professionals or “members” from the greater Akron area to join, become involved, grow professionally, support our volunteers and volunteerism, and engage our community.

We encourage membership of any person who directs, manages, coordinates, and/or interacts with volunteers through his or her employment role to join DOVIA Greater Akron. Together, through the cooperation and collaboration of our members, we hope that DOVIA Greater Akron and volunteerism in our community continues to grow, expand, and serve others.
