

Marysville High Schools Freshman class

I was contacted at the beginning of the school year by Nancy White, a teacher at MHS. Mrs. White teaches a required class for all freshman called "Freshman Focus". it is a class that helps with the transition from Middle School to High School. They do a community service project in all of these classes. This year they decided to do Project Linus blankets. They did 5 blankets per class and there are 20 classes resulting in 100 blankets for our chapter. Mrs. White also had her parenting 101 class make blankets and they made 25 for us. They made a very colorful mix of blankets for both boys and girls. We are so pleased that they chose Project Linus for their service project this year. We send a big THANK YOU to all the freshman class and to Mrs. White for organizing this.

Thank You
